NetApp

Using data and technology to drive efficiency and improve public services

NetApp supports the UK Civil Service to deliver better services for citizens by unlocking the power of data and cloud. We work with government agencies providing systems, software and services that transform data mobility and sharing, reduce cloud consumption costs, and meet cyber security and data compliance obligations.

NetApp is a global cloud-led, data-centric software company that empowers organisations to lead with data in the age of accelerated digital transformation. With solutions that perform across diverse environments, NetApp helps organisations build their own data fabric and securely deliver the right data, services and applications to the right people – anytime, anywhere.
